Rubena Tyres – Available for Testing at the Enduro Challenge

Rubena tyres have been a hot topic since their arrival in Australia and will be out in force at the James Williamson Enduro Challenge. Rubena has a range of high performance mountain bike tyres straight from Europe and they want you to give them a roll. For those who haven't yet equipped their bikes with this light and sticky rubber, the guys from Rubena will have a fleet of 26 and 29 inch test wheels, so they'll have you rolling around with a set of these 2012 Australian National Championship winning tyres in under 2 minutes. Go to the Rubena test area at the event centre on Saturday afternoon or early Sunday morning and talk to Ben or Joel.

As well as giving you the opportunity to test these great products, Rubena will be giving away five sets of tyres at the 75km presentation. You will need to be there to collect your tyres if your race number is called. Random numbers will be re-drawn until all five sets of tyres are given away. Rubena is offering 15% off to all JWEC competitors who visit the on-line Rubena shop at www.pciaustralia.com.au from 14 to 28 May. Check out the coupon in the race bag at rego for details.
